Do You Like Honest, Square Dealing?

Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines are put out under the belief that publicity is the best possible guaranty of merit, and that the most intelligent people generally want to know what they take into their stomachs, whether it be as food, drink or medicine. Although it was a bold step to take and quite out of the usual practice of makers of proprietary medicines, yet Dr. Pierce, some time ago, decided to publish broadcast and on all his bottle-wrappers all the ingredients entering into the composition, or make-up, of his celebrated family medicines. A square deal is therefore assured every one using his medicines, for one knows exactly what he or she is paying for when purchasing them, since every ingredient is published in plain English on the bottle-wrappers and the correctness of the same attested under solemn oath. These several ingredients are selected from among the very best known to medical science for the cure of the various diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

The most eminent and leading medical teachers and writers of all the several schools of practice have endorsed each of the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines in the strongest possible terms. The makers of Dr. Pierce's medicines believe that intelligent people do not wish to open their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulp down whatever is presented to them, either in the way of food, drink or medicine, without knowing something of the properties and harmless character of the agents employed. They believe that health is too sacred a heritage to be experimented with, and that people should not take medicines of the composition of which they are kept in ignorance. Dr. Pierce's medicines are made wholly from the roots of plants found growing in the depths of our American forests. They are so compounded that they cannot do harm in any case, even to the most delicate woman or child. By open publicity Dr. Pierce has taken his medicines out of the list of secret nostrums, of doubtful merit, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. They are, therefore, in a class all by themselves, being absolutely and in every sense non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny. There is a badge of honesty on every bottle of Dr. Pierce's medicines in the full list of its ingredients duly attested as correct under solemn oath.

No other medicines put up for general use through druggists can make claim to any such distinction, and none other than Dr. Pierce's medicines have any such professional endorsement of their ingredients. Such professional endorsement should have far more weight with the afflicted than any amount of lay, or non-professional, endorsement, or testimonials.

Of course, the exact proportion of each ingredient used in Dr. Pierce's medicines as well as the working formula or manner of preparing the same, and the specially devised apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may be fully protected from such unprincipled imitators as might be piratically inclined.

The preparation of these medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol, so generally employed and yet so harmful, in the long run, to most invalids when its use is long continued, even in small doses, cost Dr. Pierce several years of careful study and labor, with the aid of skilled pharmacists and chemists to assist him. Naturally, he does not care to give away his scientific and exact processes for preparing these medicines, but he does want to deal in the most open manner with all his patrons and patients, and under this frank, open and honest way of dealing, they may know exactly what they are taking when using his medicines.

WHAT DO THEY CURE?
This question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alternative, or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative and healing way upon all the mucous lining surfaces as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhoea), bladder, uterus or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or ulcerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in effecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve. For weak, worn-out, overworked women—no matter what has caused the breakdown, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1,000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

HEAR ANNUAL SERMON

Candidates Listen to Baccalaureate Discourse.

REV. DR. WOOD SPEAKS

Addressees Audience From George Washington University.

"MAN'S ALLIANCE WITH GOD"

Service Opens Commencement Week.

President Needham Heads Procession—Names of the Graduates.

Attired in scholastic cap and gown, members of the faculty and candidates for degrees at George Washington University, numbering about 240 and headed by President Charles W. Needham, II, entered the Belmont Theater at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to attend the baccalaureate service which opened commencement week. Rev. Dr. Charles Wood, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, delivered the sermon.

President Needham presided and Rev. Richard D. Harlan lead the devotional features of the service.

Sermon by Rev. Dr. Wood.

Taking as his subject "Man's Alliance with God," and as his text, "We have heard the voice of the Lord, for he has said: 'I desire peace with thee,' from Psalm lxxiii:25. Dr. Wood said in part:

"Human life in the last few decades has been enormously enlarged and enriched by a vastly increased number of alliances which wise men have succeeded in making with forces and energies of which God is the author and owner. Man allies himself with the sun, the greatest of the stars; the mighty mass of light and heat for his life in his gardens, in his conservatories, in his vineyards and fields. Man allies himself with steam, about which he thinks he understands the meaning and his ally conquers space and storms for him. He skims over the sea in colossal structures that surpass kings' palaces in magnificence. He sweeps over the earth with bewildering rapidity; while his tireless ally, the electric, which he confesses he knows little, and conquers both distance and darkness. He communicates almost instantaneously with every continent in the world. He conquers with cities a thousand miles away as easily as with a friend in the next room. He sends his thoughts untrammelled, circling through the air, over plains, mountains and oceans. What little he may yet do for him, we can learn to profit by all suggestions and hints, no one as yet has been bold enough to imagine. Man allies himself with gases, with gaseous substances and conquers gravitation, and the hitherto resistless currents of the air. He rises from the earth in winged ships, and sails toward any point of the compass. It may be well that in one of these monstrous gigantic machines he will some day hover over the north pole. Man allies himself with sound by subtle combinations and contrivances of pipes and pedals and bellows until the soul is thrilled by such music as can be surpassed only in heaven.

Slave Among Free Men.

"The man who refuses to enter into these universal alliances and constantly preferred alliances, finds himself shut into a very little world with a narrow horizon. He is a slave among free men, a dwarf among giants. But even the man who has most eagerly accepted such alliances and has been so far from the truth that behind all these forces, using them in ways he himself cannot, there is some thing or some One. What if it were possible to break down the separating wall between the material and the spiritual, and to enter fully into the world of reality, and to see that God is the source of all energy? What if it were possible to make actual an alliance with God as the farmer does with the sun, the mechanic with steam and electricity, the artist with color and with sound? If so much can be done through alliances with the servants, what might not be done through alliance with the Master.

"Such was the hope that slowly rose like a great sun in the life of the most remarkable man who has thus far appeared in human history. Whenever for a moment he faltered in that superhuman task which had been committed to his hands he felt that nothing was needed for his encouragement and inspiration but clearer vision of his ally, Centuries afterward, when sympathetic and admiring friends looked into Moses' life to discover the secret of his achievement, they found it in his alliance with God. He endured, they said, as seeing his ally face to face, though no form was visible to his eye.

Have Done Most for Humanity.

"By his alliance with God Moses was delivered from fear of Pharaoh and of the wilderness. He was delivered, too, from the fear of the Hebrew mob often ready to stone him, and from fear of the intrigues of his own household, and even from the fear of Nebo, the mountain of worship, where there on the borders of visible success he was to lay down his life's work he ore its consummation.

"The men who have done most for humanity, Abraham, Moses, David, Isaiah, Jesus, Marcellus, Paul, Augustine, Luther, Lincoln, have all died on Nebo. They have looked over the land which they could not enter. They all worked on the plan of their ally, and in the advancement they found their reward. Their true lives were lived with the cause and belonged to the eternal. Not in any other life nor in all other lives combined is the true significance of what alliance with God may mean for man made so evident as in the life of Christ. While seemingly Christ's work ended at the crucifixion in irremediable failure he saw that all the elements of completeness were in the bosom of that apparent defeat.

Unity and Simplicity.

"Members of the graduating class, this impression of the unity and simplicity of life which I have tried to make upon you is in all probability in striking contrast with the appearance of disconnectedness and inexplicableness of most of the lives that we see around us. There lives seem to us like the mad dance of atoms in the wild gust of a summer's storm. They sweep on us eager for a goal in sight, only to sweep back as swiftly toward the opposite goal. Most men a few decades after their graduation are perplexed and bewildered, and many are altogether disillusioned.

"Such black despair is the inevitable result of sealing up life from light and God. The solar system without the sun is chaos and the universe without God is a phantasmagoria. To know God as your ally in the fulfilling of every high purpose, to the conception and completion of every noble deed, is to see that you and he are to work together as you and your parents worked in the home, you and your teachers in the school, and you and your professors in the university. So came unity and simplicity to the home, and the school, and the university. With God as your ally and co-worker there will come to you a sense of quietness, peace and security.

"The sense of being in league with the powers that be is an unalloyed joy. It is the joy not only of the captain fighting with an always victorious Wellington or Grant; or the joy of a painter working with Raphael or Titian; or the joy of a poet sitting at the feet of Shakespeare and Tennyson, or of the scientist toiling with Newton or a Darwin, or the electrician in the Edison and Marconi; it is a higher joy still, the joy of pressing close to the side of the Master who has the secret of life in his soul, and is eager to share it. Slowly the philosophers and people alike are coming to see the inexhaustible treasures of practical wisdom so long latent and undiscovered in Christ's simple words. Never was the sermon on the mount, or the parable of the prodigal son, or the Lord's prayer and the Lord's Supper, in such universal and exalted estimation as today.
